Povis Sisters Bring Merriment To Little Theatre Stage Tonight

"Farewell, Farewell Eugene," a zany, madcap comedy by John Vari, is being staged by the Hartnell Community Playhouse for May 21, 22 and 28, 29 in the Hartnell Little Theatre.

Special emphasis has been placed on character and scene development for this play which, according to Hal Ulrici, Hartnell Community Playhouse Director and speech instructor, has developed ahead of schedule.

Lighting technicians Tom Bailey and Frank Cravens are working on lighting with a recently installed 18-portable unit, a $2500 system. As the old lighting system consisted of six units, this increase in units means a 300 per cent increase in lighting capacity. This allows for greater versatility in creating special effects.

The new lighting units, being housed in an elevated booth behind the audience, allows the operator to see over the "house" and to get a better view of the stage. In past productions, the operator worked the lights "by ear" from a master control board located backstage.

Since authenticity is a main objective of director Ulrici's productions, crew members, headed by Judee Reynolds, stage manager, have developed a set depicting the era of early 20th Century style, with the latest set additions being a melodeon and a small organ.

With the expert hand of director Ulrici, and a hard-working cast and crew, the play seems to show a successful night of entertainment for all its playgoers.

Tickets are 75 cents, students and $1.50, adults. Reservations may be made by phoning Hartnell College at 422-9606.

■ Gathering for a "family" portrait is the cast of tonight's play, "Farewell, Farewell Eugene." Characters are, from left to right, Frances Postelthwaite, Mrs. Reardon; Laurie Anderson, Flossie Reardon; Frank Cravens, Mr. Reardon; Joan Cerna, Gertrude Povis; Karen Wilson, Monnie Povis Goody; Cathy Coley, Cousin Peonie and Baby Jason; Fred Bradley, Chuck Bailey; Ed Skinner, Mr. Davies of the Welfare Department. Portrait on the wall depicts Brother Eugene whose name is mentioned in the title.

ART STUDENT TO NEW YORK

Hartnell College coed Julie Travali will be on her way to New York City this summer for two months study of some of the best collections of art in the world. Julie has just won the Boronda Scholarship of $500 for promising students of the arts at Hartnell College.

A longtime Salinas family, Sylvano and Maria Boronda, willed ranch land to Hartnell with the income from the land to be used in the form of a scholarship for study in a large cultural center during the summer months.

Julie, with the help of her advisor, Mr. Leon Amyx, will outline her program of study before leaving for New York. She has plans for seeing the great examples of ancient art at the Metropolitan and Brooklyn Museums and the more contemporary trends at the Museum of Modern Art, Guggenheim Museum, the Frick Collection and the Museum of American Crafts. She will also visit workshops and studios, taking notes as she goes along.

"I'm so excited about winning the scholarship," says Julie. "I've been to New York before, but I was too young to appreciate all the art museums. Now I'll have a chance to see and study great art work first hand." Julie will return to Hartnell as a sophomore next year and then plans to continue her art studies at a four year college or art school.

HOME ECONOMICS EXTENSION RESULT OF ENLARGED BUDGET

The art of sewing and cooking at Hartnell will be enhanced next September with two additions. Food and Nutrition classes will have a new teacher; sewing classes will have a new room.

Mrs. Grace Hudiburg, the new addition to the home economics department, has been teaching at California State Polytechnic College since 1962. She has also had experience as an assistant buyer, a vocational homemaking teacher in junior and high schools, a dietitian and a home service director. Mrs. Hudiburg received a Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Texas and a Master of Arts degree from Texas Women's University.

A bid from Hampshire Construction Co. in the amount of $16,562 for remodeling Room 31 into a sewing room was accepted by the Hartnell College Board at their regular meeting last Tuesday night. Miss Gladys Schmidt, who presently teaches all the home economics courses at Hartnell, will be a counselor next year in addition to teaching sewing classes in the newly remodeled classroom.

Construction will start this summer and be completed for the fall semester.

ASB SPONSORS 'VENTURES'

"Walk Don't Run" to Hartnell's Men's Gym next Saturday night, May 29. Top recording group, the Ventures will be playing for an ASB sponsored dance.

The evening will begin with an hour of entertainment presented by comedian Danny Cox and the Ventures. Bleachers will be pulled down to the gym floor to accommodate the crowd.

Dancing will be from 10 to 12 o'clock to the music of the well-known group.

Most famous of the band's recordings is "Walk Don't Run" of a few, short years ago. The Ventures have been touring Missouri and Kansas and are presently performing in Colorado.

Following their Saturday night engagement here at Hartnell, they will play on Memorial Day for Foothill College. Santa Clara and University of San Francisco will also be stopping places for the rock'n'roll group.

Tickets are now available at Gadsby's in Salinas, Abinante's in Monterey and on our campus. They will be sold at $1.50 to high school and college student body card holders. Two dollars will be charged to those without cards. Buy your tickets early, only 1,000 tickets are being printed.

ART AUCTION

Paintings, prints, ceramics and perhaps even jewelry will be auctioned off in the patio adjacent to the art wing beginning at 11:45 today.

Mr. Larry Newton, Dean of Evening Division, acting as auctioneer will call for bids on the works which have been contributed by Hartnell students, faculty members, and Salinas residents. Proceeds will be used to sponsor several painting exhibitions to be held here in the 1965-66 school year.

The Art Club is sponsoring the auction.

TIGHT SQUEEZE

As the year draws to a close, finances are getting very tight for the Panther Sentinel. Rising printing costs and added features in your paper have slaughtered the Sentinel budget.

These factors explain the issuance of this "two-pager." Enough money is being salvaged to meet the costs of a regular issue at the end of the semester. This last Sentinel will announce scholarships and offer a recap of the spring semester in addition to its regular features.

PROM SATURDAY 'NOCHE'

"The Night Will Tell" is only an all too true theme for tomorrow night's prom. The decorations and work that have gone into this year's dance is tremendous. Vicki Schutter and her co-workers have worked double hours since May 10 for an outstanding garden arrangement with fountains, trellises, fencework and roses in every possible imaginable place.

"La Noche Se Dice" will be held in the San Carlos Hotel in Monterey from 9-1 o'clock. Music will be provided by the Neil Armstrong Band, who besides playing at numerous proms in this area, also appeared at the Merced County Fair.

Bids are still on sale for $5.00 for student body card holders and $7.50 for those without.

Overall chairman for the prom is Glenn Graves. Heading the decorations committee is Vicki Schutter, Randy Prader and Sherry Alewine are in charge of bids, and co-chairmen for the publicity committee are Millie Jones and Charles Willis.

Sunday Sing For Chorus Last Concert of Season

The last concert sponsored by the Hartnell Community Chorus this year will be a joint venture—Cabrillo College is cooperating in two performances, one at the San Juan Bautista Mission, May 23, and the second on May 28 at Cabrillo College.

The program will feature sacred music: two motets of Brahms—"Aus Dem Psalm 51," and "O Heiland Reiss;" and Haydn's "Lord Nelson Mass."

Conductors are Mr. Vahe Aslanian of Hartnell and Dr. Ralph Kent of Cabrillo. The concert at the Mission will start at 4, while the concert held at Cabrillo College will begin at 8 in the evening.

As a rousing wind-up to a year of study, these two evening division choruses have augmented their ranks with four San Francisco Bay Area professionals to carry the extensive solo parts in the full length Haydn work—soprano Anna Carol Dudley, mezzo-soprano Claudine Carlson, tenor Patrick Daugherty, and bass Dickson Titus.

Each one brings to this program experience in opera and concert stages around the United States and abroad.

The orchestra backing up the vocalists is made up of selected musicians drawn from a wide area—from Palo Alto to Pacific Grove. Hartnell instructor Nathan Koblick acts as concertmaster for the instrumentalists.

Tickets may be bought at the door, or purchased from any member of the Community-Chorus Guild. Prices are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Members of the Guild may obtain entrance free.

Presses Roll For 'Spectrum'

Presses are rolling on the "Spectrum!" Hartnell's experiment in a literary magazine is now in the process of being printed by El Camino Press.

Eight pages of color will highlight the 48-page volume of campus talent and activities. In dead center of the book is the aerial picture of the student body wheel.

Expected distribution date, according to Spectrum editor Jerry Townsend, will be June 7.

■ Preparing to leave for the Hillview golf course in San Jose are three members of the Panther women's golf team. From left to right are Colleen Barnett, Gail Johnston, and Peggy Propst. Peggy was unable to play due to injuries she received in an automobile accident recently, but she accompanied her teammates around the course while they competed with San Jose State and Stanford University.

Only JC Girl Team in Area Tangles With San Jose State

Four Hartnell co-eds, who make up the only Junior College Women's Golf team in the area, competed against San Jose State and Stanford University Thursday, May 13, at the Hillview Golf Course in San Jose.

An "87" shot by a San Jose team member took away the honors for the day. Bev Cotta, exhibiting the good usage of her woods for the Hartnell team, shot a 101 for 18 holes. Colleen Barnett, who holds down the first position on the team, turned in a 103. Completing the team were Grace Turner and Gail Johnston who stated that they both had "a lot of fun!"

According to Miss Helga Buss, team advisor, the women's golf program for next year will include an intermediate golf class fall term in which the girls will play on the course set up at school and at the Salinas Fairways.

GIRLS COMPETE

Athletic females from four surrounding high schools will participate in a sportsday at Hartnell tomorrow from 8 to 1. Girls from Salinas High, North Salinas High, Gonzales Union High, and Notre Dame Academy will be trying to best their opponents in softball, basketball, volleyball and badminton.

The purpose of the activities, according to Mary Barden, WAA secretary, is to show the seniors Hartnell facilities that will be available to them next year as Hartnell freshmen.

Hartnell Residents Are Sure; Picnics Can Be Fun and Games!

Hartnell Men's Dorm Annual Picnic got off to a rollicking start at 9 o'clock, May 1 with the first event of the day, an exciting car rally. Beginning at the dorm and ending at Balado Park in Hollister, the objective of the competition was to come closest to the time of travel set by the picnic chairman.

Tony Ploszay came through with a first place of 55 minutes. He collected the prize of a free lubrication and five gallons of gas.

At Balado, Miss June Handley, Dean of Students, and Mrs. Edna Salvatore, dorm mother, participated with the boys and their dates in relays, potato sack races, and baseball. Both women displayed their culinary talents when they helped Steve Sutherland prepare sizzling steaks. After the eats, everyone spent the day swimming, dancing, playing ball or munching on leftovers.

The boys and their dates wish to thank Miss Handley and Mrs. Salvatore for helping them turn out the best dorm picnic yet.

COACH OUTPLAYS PLAYERS, BRINGS HOME SHINY GOODIE

Finishing the season for Hartnell's winning golf team was the Junior College State Tournament at Visalia; and if Coach Arvin Smith was grinning when he returned last Monday morning, there was a reason.

Al Vaccaro shot a 150, to be low man on the team, and to finish sixth in overall tournament standings. His second round total of 73 included two shots that were out of bounds on the very tight courses. The low medalist winner shot a 142.

Glen Stubblefield, Ed McCullom, Tom Baughn and Eric Christerson were the other members of the team. All members were beset with the usual trouble; they had never seen or played on either course before. Santa Ana took first place with an over-all score of 773.

Hartnell DID bring back a trophy, however, and a first place one, too (this being the was smiling). The State Junior College Coaches Championship is run along with the other tournament, and Hartnell's own revered and loved coach won first with a 77. Over the whole field of coaches. And that includes a couple of ex-professional tournament players.

What makes the story even more amazing is the fact that when Coach Smith came here five years ago, he had never even HELD a golf club, much less played a game. When he was informed that he was to teach golf classes, he went into a quick self-teaching course. He's evidently a darn good teacher.

The prospects for next year's golf team look bright—only one teammate, Ed Baughn, is a sophomore. In retrospect, the coach stated that "with a little luck we could have been champions." Hartnell's team ended up second in league standings.

VALIANT EFFORT ENDS POOR YEAR

Hartnell's baseball diamond was the scene of the final valiant try, when Gavilan out-played the Panthers by a score of 5 to 2. They were just getting even; Hartnell had beaten them four days before, 8 to 1.

Of the 17 games played, Hartnell lost 10, tied 1, and won 7. Moffett Field, San Jose Freshmen, Monterey, West Valley and Gavilan all fell before the Panthers, while Soledad got a tie.

Bill Price had the high overall team batting average—.591; the team's league average was .266 and overall average was .302.

HI FLYING VAULTER SETS SCHOOL RECORD

High flying Hartnell pole-vaulters brought joy to the heart of Coach Adams last Saturday, but the heat proved to be too much for the rest of the aspiring and perspiring tracksters.

Modesto's track area, site of the Northern California Finals, was also the site for Jim Cox and Dave Taylor to show their pole vaulting ability.

Jim Cox took fifth place with a flying leap of 14'6", but Dave Taylor stole the show with a 15'6" vault that grabbed first place. It also broke the standing school record of 14'1" set by Harlan Butler in 1963.

Both will attend the Foothill finals tomorrow, where four finalists in each event will represent Northern California in the last meet.
